

Jasper Ridge during installation of magnetometers and electrodes. Each coil was buried 4 feet underground and electrodes were buried 6 feet underground. The magnetic sensors and electric field conditioning sensors are housed in a waterproof plastic storage box (not shown in this image). The Quanterra digitizer is located in the shed.

Photograph of Jasper Ridge Installation

